

Scoring table for the recruitment process to the "Welcome home" program

Table of points awarded by the recruitment committee while determining the families to be invited to the trial period.

points
1	stabilized residence permit situation of the majority of family members, including one adult who can work
0 - 3	large family (2 parents and more than 3 children or a single parent and more than 2 children): 1 point; +1 point for each additional child, maximum 3 points
0 - 3	being at risk of homelessness * (the number of points is awarded by the recruitment committee depending on the difficulty of the situation compared to other applicants in the recruitment process at that time)
- 1	minus one point for people in the process of applying for a refugee status or a permit to stay for humanitarian reasons, who live in a refugee center (such people have a more stable housing situation than other potentially recruited people) - does not apply to people who received a decision which means an obligation to leave the center
0 - 2	an additional points for unforeseen exceptional situations awarded based on an individual assessment of the recruitment committee
additional points	taken into account if necessary to choose between families with equal scores
0 - 5	previous positive experience in using the Foundation's services, e.g. regular participation in Polish language courses, taking actions planned in agreement with the Help Center for Foreigners.

* Risk of homelessness is understood as:

- a serious risk of losing the right to a current housing unit in the next 2 months (including due to debt, a terminated lease agreement, permanent loss of income or social welfare benefits making it impossible to continue to use a housing unit, eviction order) and lack of funds for renting an apartment at market prices,
- a serious risk of losing accommodation currently provided by a facility, including the obligation to leave a center for foreigners, or a facility supporting persons at risk of suffering abuse in the next 2 months and lack of funds for renting an apartment at market prices,
- living in a housing unit without being legally entitled to it (without a rental agreement), and no possibility to formalize legal rights to it, and lack of funds for renting an apartment at market prices,
- living in conditions unsuitable for living (e.g. in an apartment without heating, without ventilation, without access to hot water) and lack of funds for renting a suitable apartment at market prices,
- living in overcrowded conditions and lack of funds for renting a suitable apartment at market prices.
